3 Institutional Affiliation

To ensure that the X-Tutorial can be implemented smoothly, organizational support is required (e.g. booking rooms, laboratory space or equipment) from the department. The X-Tutorial therefore requires an institutional affiliation. This affiliation is ensured by a professor who is informed about the proposal and assures with his or her signature that he or she will provide support in organizational matters.¹

¹ X-Tutorials can be made visible as research tutorials in the course catalogs of the four partner institutions of the Berlin University Alliance. X-Tutorials are low-capacity in the sense that they are primarily considered only in the extracurricular area and, if applicable, in the interdisciplinary area.
